Dear Indian Wells Community,

As we welcome a new year in Indian Wells, I'd like to take a moment to reflect on 2023 and look forward to 2024.

This past holiday season, Indian Wells Winterfest returned to the Indian Wells Golf Resort for its second year. This fun-filled event offers the ultimate desert holiday experience with programming such as tree lighting, roller skating, the ever-popular Shots in the Night, Top Tracer, and other family-friendly activities.

We also celebrated two new additions to our business community. Sprouts Farmers Market opened in the Village Shopping Center on October 13 and now provides our residents with fresh, accessible groceries. Additionally, the Miramonte Resort has become the Tommy Bahama Miramonte Resort & Spa, the first of its kind for the luxury lifestyle brand.

In 2023, residents enjoyed the benefits of our partnership with Acrisure Arena, home to the Coachella Valley Firebirds, and that will continue into 2024. Through the Resident Benefit Card program, Indian Wells residents receive perks such as a designated Indian Wells Night at a Firebirds game, discounted tickets, and presale access to concert tickets.

On top of all that, the City remains fiscally sound. Our cash reserves continue to be strong at nearly $50 million. The adopted budget includes a $1 million surplus, reserves $2 million toward long-term capital projects, maintains a fully funded pension program and funds a five-year capital investment of more than $43 million in the community.

Looking ahead, the City of Indian Wells has several sporting partnerships emerging that will bring visitors from all around to our community. The City is proud to sponsor the 44th competitive season of the Epson Tour Championship in 2024, elevating our status as a premier golfing destination and emphasizing our commitment to promoting good sportsmanship and excellence. Tennis fans will return with the BNP Paribas Open in March. This continues to be a standout event, attracting record-breaking 450,000 fans and achieving the highest single-day attendance record.

Indian Wells maintains its status as a premier tourist destination, utilizing tourism dollars to fund services in our community. The City will continue to develop new marketing opportunities, promote partnerships, and increase awareness of local events.

If you have any questions about anything Indian Wells visit www.cityofindianwells.org, give us a call at (760) 346-2489, or pay us a visit at City Hall.

Here's to another fantastic year for our community and what's to come!

Sincerely,

Chris Freeland
City Manager

In 1972 the Del Guidice family moved from Brooklyn, Queens, New York, and settled in the Coachella Valley. 50 years and three generations later, the family still enjoys serving old-world, family style recipes, reaching back five generations to far away Naples, Italy, for the authentic flavor that is uniquely Mario's.

REAL ESTATE

Real estate in the Coachella Valley is fascinating! It is never boring! Every hour is different, and each day, week, month and year is unique also. We only have two seasons here in our beautiful Desert: high season and off-season. High season comprises November through April as most of our thought patterns indicate. Historically the numbers have shown that the number of transactions taking place in the off-season is about the same as the number taking place in high season when everyone comes to take advantage of our warm weather. There was an aberration to this in part of the off-season in 2023. However, sales picked up again and are moving along nicely as we approach the New Year. It's a good time to buy or to sell.

2023 has given real estate agents and their companies a lot to deal with. The lack of inventory of homes for sale along with the rapid increase in interest rates and subsequently the mortgage rates, the wars taking place in the world, the fear of recession and unemployment, the political climate domestically and worldwide, are just some of the issues that appears to be keeping alloo of us on our toes and reluctant to make major life changing decisions such as buying or selling a home. Yet, we do continue to move forward and make those decisions! We are strong!

Watching the real estate market is like watching the stock market, but in slow motion. Both markets are driven by the same underlying fundamentals. One requires decisions to be made in seconds or minutes and the other market allows ample time to gather information and apply it to each one's individual situation. Buyers and sellers of real estate have a plethora of professionals to engage with to help them get to the bottom line.

The Coachella Valley real estate market is wide in terms of prices and locations. There should be something for everyone whether it is a $200,000 property or a $15,000,000 property. We have gated and ungated communities, golf or tennis-oriented communities including social groups of like-minded people within the communities. Be open to an agent helping you!

Real estate agents are very important to the real estate transaction process because they are on the front line and their license requires them to be up to date on laws, requirements, regulations, paperwork required, etc. It also requires agents to always act in the best interests of their clients and to treat all parties to a transaction honestly. Agents are as varied as their clients. It is also very important to find and work with an agent that fits your wants and needs and is easy for you to communicate with and trust. One size does not fit all. Make sure that if you are contemplating a real estate transaction here in our Beautiful Desert that you choose your agent wisely to fit your personality and individual needs. They can be with a small or a large firm, but they must be honest and answer your questions truthfully regardless of whether that changes your decision-making process. Communication is paramount! You need to know what your agent knows when they know it. It's your money and therefore your decision. Knowledge is power in life and especially in real estate!
